The beautiful residence of Mrs. Jennie Smyth of this place was burned to the ground in Ukiah one day last week. Mrs. Smyth's brother with his family occupied the house. While sitting in one of the rooms on the lower floor their attention was attracted to a crackling sound and upon looking up they discovered flames bursting through the ceiling. So rapidly did the fire spread that the family lost everything and had barely time to escape with their lives. The origin of the fire is unknown. The house which was one of the pretty homes of Ukiah, was insured for $2,000.

A GREAT INDUSTRY.

Sonoma's Basalt Block Interests—Over $500 per Day Paid Out in Wages.

During the past few years the basalt block interests of Sonoma have grown to wonderful proportions, and at the present time her quarries, which are inexhaustible, furnish nine-tenths of the blocks used in paving the streets of San Francisco, Stockton and other large Pacific Coast cities. So far nothing has yet been found that equals our basalt rock for street paving purposes. It is durable and cheap, and the accessibility of these quarries to the city will always give Sonoma almost a monopoly of the business. It is safe to predict that no other stone will ever take its place, because the most minute research in the bowels of the earth from one end of the Coast to the other, has failed to find its equal as a street paver.

The immense advantages of Sonoma's quarry interests are hardly appreciated at this time, and in the course of a few years, with the aid of our fruit and wine, are bound to bring the place to the fore as one of the growing and prosperous inland cities of the State.

At the present time our quarries, some six or eight in number, give employment to about 200 men—blockmakers and teamsters—and between $500 and $600 per day is paid out for wages alone by the owners of the quarries. Most of this money is spent in Sonoma, for food, clothing, etc. No Chinese are employed in making these blocks.

It is one of those occupations which John says he "no sabbes." For the most part the blockmakers are hard working and temperate men and are good and useful citizens, and as they make from $3 to $5 per day those that are married live quite comfortably, many of them in their own homes. Those that are single live at our hotels and in private boarding houses.

The quarries are located north and northwest of Sonoma a mile or two from town. The rock crops out in every direction, and when the demands require it many more quarries can be opened.

In getting out the rock, which is in the shape of large boulders, the rough brush and small rocks are first removed, leaving the large basalt rocks exposed. These are then detached by a blast of giant powder or a heavy crowbar, when they are ready to cut up into the size and shape of the paving block so familiar to every one in this State. This is done by the use of steel drills and hammers made expressly for the work. So experienced have some of our blockmakers become with these tools that they make from $5 to $6 per day.

After the blocks have been cut to the proper size they are loaded on heavy wagons and hauled into town and shipped to San Francisco over the Donahue Narrow Gauge road, via Sonoma Landing.

At the present time there are at least 200,000 blocks awaiting shipment, at this place awaiting shipment. Although the company has been hauling fifteen carloads every day since the first of January the rocks continue to increase, the road being taxed to its utmost to fill the shipping orders. In consequence the road will be broadened out this summer so that it will be enabled to meet the demands made on it for this and other kinds of freight, which has greatly increased the past few years.

Butterflies by the Million.

On Friday and Saturday of last week a remarkable phenomenon was observed in many parts of this valley. At an early hour on Friday morning countless myriads of small red and brown butterflies made their appearance. Their flight was from east to west and all day long a constant stream of the insects poured down Napa street and other thoroughfares running parallel with it.

In some parts of the valley they were so thick along the roads that horses were frightened. They fairly swarmed on the Engler place one mile east of town and took possession of everything. They continued their flight until late Saturday afternoon and then disappeared as mysteriously as they came. The insect is supposed to be a species of the codlin moth. So far no damage is apparent from the visitation but as the season advances it is feared that some damage may result to fruit, especially apples, as the insect completely took possession of apple trees which are in blossom and may have left a deposit of eggs behind.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effective in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Still Ahead of the Boom.

A good joke is told on D. H. Twing, one of the live real estate men of this valley, which is too good to keep. A couple of years ago, after an absence of several years in Southern California, he concluded to return to his old field of labor in this valley. On his way up he met D. D. Davison of Sonoma. The meeting took place on the steamer Jas. M. Donahue.

"Hello, Twing!" said Dan. "Where are you going to?" "Why," said Twing, "I'm going to Sonoma Valley."

"To Sonoma Valley?" said Dan, with an enquiring look, "what in the devil are you going to do there?" "Why I'm going into the real estate business again," said Twing.

"Is that so," said Dan.

"Yes," said Twing. "I've just come from Los Angeles, and I tell you the boom down there has been immense. Why, farming land is selling for over $1,000 an acre. I got there a little too late. The boom got ahead of me. But I ain't going to get left."

"Aren't you," said Dan.

"Not much," said Twing. "The boom is coming toward Sonoma Valley now, and will reach there in a short time, and darn my skin I'm a goin' to get ahead of it."

Days lengthened into weeks, weeks into months and months into years, but somehow or another the boom didn't come. Finally one day Dan met Twing.

"Hello, Twing; how about that boom? I see you are still ahead of it, hasn't caught up with you yet, eh?" Twing looked sad-eyed, and now they never speak as they pass each other by.

P. S.—At latest accounts Twing was still ahead of the boom.

Easter Sunday.

The several churches of Sonoma were elaborately decorated in commemoration of Easter Sunday. The attendance at the Congregational and Catholic churches were unusually large.

The Rev. Father Leonard delivered an eloquent sermon at St. Francis' Church. The interior was decorated with choice flowers, the most prominent being the beautiful calla lilies, which set off the altars and choir railing to advantage. A large cross made of lovely white flowers was among the many floral designs to be seen. The choir, led by Mr. J. Bartholme, was excellent.

The Congregational church was likewise handsomely decorated with calla lilies, roses and other choice flowers. A splendid sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Reid of San Francisco.

Glen Ellen Goskip.

A large amount of wine is being shipped from this place.

The store of C. O. Borman is being rapidly completed.

The school children of this place will celebrate May day by a picnic in Glen Ellen Park.

The Methodist bi-weekly church meeting took place last Sunday at Mervyn Hall and was largely attended.

Chas. Kohler and a party of friends came up on Sunday's train, greatly enjoying themselves on the old farm.

James Law has gone to San Francisco for a few days. Jim, you know, is a gentleman of elegant leisure just now.

Mr. J. Chauvet has advertised to lease his large and extensive wine cellar near this place. It is one of the best in the vicinity.

Frank Rovai, formerly a brakeman on the S. V. R. R., has established a commission business at 417 Davis street, San Francisco.

Vineyardists are busy plowing. Poll Green, an old hand at the business, does his work with a white horse. Green and white is a beautiful contrast. So it is.

J. T. Peters has put up a sample tent in Glen Ellen Park under the old oak tree, which for convenience and durability takes the bakery. He has named the same Mistletoe Cottage.

Messrs. Sobbe, Hunter & Co., went out fishing early last Sunday morning, taking with them a plentiful supply of refreshments and sundries. In a financial point of view it undoubtedly was a failure, as the following will show:

To Dr.	Or.
To sundries.....	75
To refreshments.....	50
To fishing tackle.....	50
	$1 75
To Bal.....	$1 50
Of course out of pocket.

A quiet wedding took place last Wednesday morning, the contracting parties being Mr. Ephm. Cutler, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Capt. E. P. Cutler and Miss Florence Manuel, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Manuel. The young couple were married at the bride's home by Rev. E. H. King in the presence of the immediate relatives of the families. The ceremony over, a wedding dinner was served, after which the happy couple took the afternoon train for San Francisco, where they will spend their honeymoon. Upon their return they will take up their residence on Capt. Cutler's farm.

A very enjoyable surprise party was given to Miss May Powell on Tuesday evening last at the residence of her grandmother, Mrs. M. A. Carriger. At an early hour those invited began to assemble. After having aside hats and wraps the merry company wended their way to the large wine cellar which had been cleared for dancing, and all were soon whirling in the giddy mazes of the waltz to sweet strains of music furnished by Girardi of San Francisco. At midnight refreshments were served, after which dancing was renewed and kept up until Aurora commenced to light up the Eastern skies. The following were among those present: Mrs. M. Carriger, Mrs. C. C. Carriger, Mr. and Mrs. Moas, Mr. and Mrs. M. Powell. The Misses S. Sad Accident.

A man was brought to the County Hospital from Guerneville, Thursday, suffering from injuries received Sunday night. While returning from Ingram to Guerneville Sunday night he met a team on one of the steep and narrow grades. He was unable to get out of the way, and the hub of one of the wheels struck him. He lost his footing and was precipitated over the declivity. His fall was broken at a distance of ten or fifteen feet below the top of the grade by a log, which served to check his descent only momentarily. The log was large and heavy and when loosened from its position midway in the steep descent it rolled to the bottom, adding impetus to the fall of the man. His body was pinned beneath the log in such a manner as to make all but the slightest movement of one hand impossible. The shock did not deprive him of consciousness, however, and he lay in this position during the whole night suffering agonies of the most intense nature. When found Monday morning his body, with the exception of the lower half of the right arm, was paralyzed.—Democrat.

To Foretell Frost.

For the benefit of farmers Greely gives the following simple and definite method by which clear, cool weather, near the point of early or late frosts, a person can determine with considerable accuracy if frost will occur the following night: "The approach of frost can be foretold with considerable accuracy from the reading of properly exposed dry and wet thermometers. A safe and simple method to follow when the temperature is 50 degrees or below is to take the difference between the dry and wet of the thermometers by adding the sum thus obtained to the reading of the thermometer; it leaves the approximate degree to which the moisture of the air will fall the next night, unless change of wind, moisture, or increase of temperature interferes. The value and importance of observations of this kind have not been sufficiently impressed upon farmers cultivating crops kind susceptible to frost, and of the protection." It may be in this connection that the thermometer, mentioned above, is an instrument the bulb of which is kept moist by its contact with a piece of lampwick fed from a small reservoir of water.
